STATEMENT OF FCC COMMISSIONER AJIT PAI
On House Passage of the No Rate Regulation of Broadband Internet Access Act

WASHINGTON, April 15, 2016.—Today the House of Representatives passed common-sense legislation to stop the Federal Communications Commission from regulating broadband Internet access rates. This bipartisan measure codifies what President Obama told the FCC to do in 2014 and what Chairman Wheeler promised to do in 2015. I hope it will soon become the law of the land.
