

FCC FACT SHEET***
Promoting Diversification of Ownership in the Broadcasting Services
Order on Reconsideration, MB Docket No. 07-294

Background: Noncommercial educational (NCE) broadcasters, including public broadcasters, have complained that a recent Commission regulation will deter volunteers from serving their stations as officers or members of boards of directors. In this Order, the Commission would eliminate that regulation.

In January 2016, the Commission revised its broadcast ownership reporting forms (FCC Form 323 for commercial stations and Form 323-E for NCE stations) to streamline the ownership reporting requirements for broadcasters and to refine the collection of data reported on the forms. Among other things, the FCC revised Form 323-E to require that NCE broadcasters use a unique identifier—either an FCC Registration Number (FRN) or the newly created Restricted Use FRN—for each reportable interest holder, just as commercial broadcasters must do on Form 323. This requirement compels those with reportable interests in an NCE station—typically the officers and governing board members—to provide the Commission with personal information, such as a social security number and/or date of birth. The FCC also allowed NCE stations to rely on Special Use FRNs -- which do not require submission of personal information -- for individuals with reportable interests, if an individual refused to provide the information necessary to report a valid CORES FRN or Restricted Use FRN. The Commission stated, however, that it may take enforcement action against the individual for refusing to provide such information. The FCC stated further that the NCE station itself would be exempt from enforcement action if it demonstrates that it used reasonable and good-faith efforts to obtain the information needed to report an FRN or Restricted Use FRN before reporting a Special Use FRN, including informing the individual about the risk of enforcement action.

In May 2016, a number of NCE broadcasters filed petitions for reconsideration contending that mandatory use of CORES FRNs and Restricted Use FRNs on Form 323-E would hinder the efforts of NCEs to recruit qualified volunteers to serve on their licensee boards and would pose other unique challenges for certain noncommercial entities.

What the Order Would Do:

- Expand the option for noncommercial broadcasters to use Special Use FRNs, which do not require submission of personal information, for reportable individuals on Form 323-E.
  - Specifically, the Order would eliminate the requirement that noncommercial broadcasters first use “reasonable and good-faith efforts” to obtain the information necessary to report an FRN or a Restricted Use FRN, including informing individuals about the threat of enforcement action, before reporting a Special Use FRN.
  - In doing so, the Order would remove a requirement that compels the officers and directors of noncommercial broadcasters to provide the FCC with personal information, such as a social security number or date of birth, or risk being subject to an FCC enforcement action.
- Retain the use of FRNs and Restricted Use FRNs on Form 323-E to the extent that reportable interest holders may already have, or will not object to obtaining, such an identifier.

I. INTRODUCTION

1. This Order on Reconsideration (Order) grants in part, dismisses in part, and denies in part several petitions for reconsideration of the 323 and 323-E Order and provides noncommercial broadcasters with relief from the requirement that they must report a unique FCC Registration Number (FRN) for each attributable interest holder on ownership reports filed with the Commission. Currently,

* This document has been circulated for tentative consideration by the Commission at its April open meeting. The issues referenced in this document and the Commission's ultimate resolution of those issues remain under consideration and subject to change. This document does not constitute any official action by the Commission. However, the Chairman has determined that, in the interest of promoting the public's ability to understand the nature and scope of issues under consideration by the Commission, the public interest would be served by making this document publicly available. The FCC's ex parte rules apply and presentations are subject to "permit-but-disclose" ex parte rules. See, e.g., 47 CFR §§ 1.1206, 1.1200(a). Participants in this proceeding should familiarize themselves with the Commission's ex parte rules.

1 Petition for Reconsideration of American Public Media Group (filed May 4, 2016) (APMG Petition); Petition for Reconsideration of the NCE Licensees (filed May 3, 2016) (NCE Licensees Petition); Petition for Reconsideration of the Public Broadcasting Parties (filed May 4, 2016) (Public Broadcasting Parties Petition); Petition for Reconsideration of Lisa S. Campo (filed May 3, 2016) (SUNY Petition) (filed on behalf of the State University of New York). The NCE Licensees are more than 60 noncommercial educational television and radio station licensees, including public and private universities, governmental entities, and local and regional nonprofit organizations. NCE Licensees Petition at 13-17. The Public Broadcasting Parties are 11 licensees of public radio and television stations and include nonprofit community organizations and public and private colleges and universities. 3 See infra notes 35, 41. As discussed below, although our action today grants certain flexibility to NCEs, we retain the use of unique FRNs in the NCE context, to the extent attributable interest holders may already have, or will not object to obtaining, unique FRNs. To the extent the petitioners request that we completely eliminate unique FRNs in the NCE context, we deny the petitions for reconsideration. See infra note 35.

this requirement compels those with attributable interests in the licensee of a noncommercial educational (NCE) broadcast station—typically the officers and governing board members—to provide the Commission with identifying information, such as a social security number (SSN) or date of birth, or risk being subject to a Commission enforcement action. Because this requirement, and the prospect of enforcement action against individuals who choose not to provide their personal information to the Commission, may raise unique concerns for some noncommercial entities, today we expand the option for NCE filers to report Special Use FRNs (SUFRNs), which do not require submission of personal information, for attributable individuals.

II. BACKGROUND

2. Commercial and noncommercial broadcasters are required to submit ownership reports every two years and on other occasions specified in the Commission’s rules.<sup>4</sup> These reports must include information about the individuals and entities that hold attributable interests in the station licensee, including officers and directors.<sup>5</sup> Commercial broadcasters submit ownership reports on FCC Form 323, and noncommercial broadcasters submit ownership reports on FCC Form 323-E.

3. The 323 and 323-E Order revised Forms 323 and 323-E to address issues with the Commission’s data collection process that were identified previously by the United States Government Accountability Office (GAO), by researchers who wish to study the Commission’s ownership data, and by the Third Circuit as part of its review of the Commission’s Quadrennial Review proceeding.<sup>6</sup> Among other things, the 323 and 323-E Order revised Form 323-E to require that NCE filers provide a unique FRN generated by the Commission Registration System (CORES) for each attributable interest holder listed on Form 323-E, just as commercial broadcasters must do on Form 323.<sup>7</sup>

<sup>4</sup> In addition to biennial submissions, licensees and permittees must submit broadcast ownership reports (i) within 30 days of a grant of an application for original construction permit, (ii) on the date the permittee applies for a station license, and (iii) within 30 days of consummating an authorized assignment or transfer of control of a permit or license. See FCC Form 323, Instructions for Ownership Report for Commercial Broadcast Stations (March 2013), <https://transition.fcc.gov/Forms/Form323/323.pdf>; FCC Form 323-E, Instructions for Ownership Report for Noncommercial Broadcast Stations (June 2002), <https://transition.fcc.gov/Forms/Form323-E/323e.pdf>; see also Promoting Diversification of Ownership in the Broadcasting Services, Sixth Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 28 FCC Rcd 461, 463, n.13 (2013) (Sixth Diversity Further Notice) (discussing ownership reporting requirements for commercial broadcast stations).

<sup>5</sup> The attribution standards—set forth in Section 73.3555 of Commission’s rules—seek to identify those interests that confer a degree of influence or control such that the holders have a realistic potential to affect the core operating functions of the station, including the programming decisions of licensees. See 47 CFR § 73.3555, Note 2; see also infra para. 14.

<sup>6</sup> 323 and 323-E Order, 31 FCC Rcd at 399, 421, paras. 2, 45. The 323 and 323-E Order provides a detailed discussion of the Commission’s sustained efforts to address these issues by improving the quality, utility, and reliability of the data collected on Forms 323 and 323-E. Id. at 400-11, paras. 4-23. See also Promoting Diversification of Ownership in the Broadcasting Services et al., Report and Order and Fourth Further Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 24 FCC Rcd 5896, 5900-02, paras. 7-10 (2009) (323 Order and Fourth Diversity Further Notice) (discussing issues identified by GAO and researchers); Sixth Diversity Further Notice, 28 FCC Rcd at 467-68, para. 10 (discussing issues identified by the Third Circuit).

<sup>7</sup> 323 and 323-E Order, 31 FCC Rcd at 426-28, paras. 52-55. In doing so, the Commission found that Section 257 of the Telecommunications Act of 1996 and Section 309(j) of the Communications Act authorize the Commission to collect this information from NCE stations. Id. at 421, para. 44. Importantly, the 323 and 323-E Order also updated Form 323-E to collect information about the race, gender, and ethnicity of NCE attributable interest holders as proposed in the Fourth Diversity Further Notice, allowing the Commission to construct a much more complete picture of minority and female participation in broadcasting. Id. at 425-26, para. 51. These revisions addressed issues previously identified by GAO and harmonized Form 323-E with Form 323, which was revised in 2009 to collect such data. The GAO previously criticized the Commission for its failure to collect race, gender, and ethnicity information from NCE stations. U.S. Gov’t Accountability Office, GAO-08-383, Media Ownership:

4. In the 323 and 323-E Order, the Commission attempted to balance the importance of ensuring the integrity and usability of its broadcast ownership data through the use of unique identifiers against concerns that requiring attributable individuals to obtain a CORES FRN or RUFN could have negative impacts on NCE stations.<sup>8</sup> In response to concerns that mandatory use of a traditional CORES FRN on Forms 323 and 323-E would require submission of individuals' full SSNs to the Commission, the 323 and 323-E Order provided for a Restricted Use FRN (RUFN) establishing an alternative means for obtaining a unique identifier for individual attributable interest holders that does not require disclosure of a full SSN.<sup>9</sup> To obtain an RUFN, the applicant must submit an individual's full name, residential address, date of birth, and the last four digits of his or her SSN.<sup>10</sup> The 323 and 323-E Order required filers to "us[e] reasonable and good-faith efforts to obtain RUFNs [or CORES FRNs] from individuals with reportable interests," including informing individuals of "the risk of enforcement action for failing to provide an RUFN or CORES FRN or to permit an RUFN or CORES FRN to be obtained on their behalf."<sup>11</sup> In dissent, then-Commissioner Pai stated that he "would give more credence to those public broadcasters across the country who run the day-to-day operations of their stations," who argued that the CORES FRN/RUFN requirement might negatively impact their ability to recruit volunteers to serve on their licensee boards.<sup>12</sup> Because, in his view, the 323 and 323-E Order's alternative approach did not give appropriate weight to the concerns of NCE broadcasters, then-Commissioner Pai objected to the requirement that the officers and directors of NCEs provide the Commission with the information needed to obtain a CORES FRN or RUFN. Commissioner O'Rielly also expressed concerns about the requirement.<sup>13</sup>

5. Following the release of the 323 and 323-E Order, the American Public Media Group (APMG), the NCE Licensees, the Public Broadcasting Parties, and the State University of New York (SUNY) (together, the Petitioners) timely filed petitions for reconsideration (Petitions).<sup>14</sup> The Petitioners request that the Commission reconsider its decision to apply the CORES FRN/RUFN requirement to Form 323-E.<sup>15</sup> The Commission did not receive any oppositions to the petitions. However, SUNY and the NCE Licensees filed replies in which they again urge the Commission to eliminate the CORES FRN/RUFRN requirement in the NCE context.<sup>16</sup> In addition, several public broadcasting organizations and the Board of Trustees of the University of Alabama each filed pleadings styled as “comments” in support of the petitions for reconsideration.<sup>17</sup>

6. On January 4, 2017, the Media Bureau, acting on delegated authority, released the 323-E Order<sup>18</sup> dismissing and denying the Petitions pursuant to Section 1.429(l) of the Commission’s rules.<sup>19</sup> Subsequently, the Bureau set aside the 323-E Order pursuant to Section 1.113 of the Commission’s rules,<sup>20</sup> concluding that it was more appropriate for the Petitions to be addressed at the Commission level.<sup>21</sup>

III. DISCUSSION

7. As set forth below, we find that the Petitions provide valid reasons to reconsider the 323 and 323-E Order’s decision to require filers to report a CORES FRN or RUFRN for each attributable interest holder reported on Form 323-E. We therefore provide relief to NCE filers by allowing them discretion to report SUFRNs—which do not require disclosure of an SSN, date of birth, or other personal information—for individual attributable interest holders reported on Form 323-E in cases where the attributable individual has not obtained a CORES FRN or RUFRN. Currently, NCE filers are permitted to report an SUFRN for an attributable individual only if they have used reasonable and good-faith efforts to obtain the information needed to report a CORES FRN or RUFRN, including informing an individual about the risk of enforcement action in the event that the individual chooses not to provide his or her personal information to the Commission.<sup>22</sup> On reconsideration, however, we eliminate that requirement for NCE filers.

8. We find that the Petitioners and other NCEs participating in this proceeding have raised legitimate concerns that the CORES FRN/RUFRN requirement, and the prospect of enforcement action for failing to comply with this requirement, may hinder their efforts to recruit volunteers to serve on their Nonetheless, we consider these pleadings herein in the interest of developing a full record and because no party would be prejudiced thereby.

<sup>19</sup> 47 CFR § 1.429(l). Then-Commissioner Pai and Commissioner O’Rielly objected to the Bureau’s decision, stating that “requir[ing] board members of NCE stations to report sensitive personal information . . . will only serve to discourage these volunteers from serving their communities.” Press Release, FCC, Statement of Commissioners Ajit Pai and Michael O’Rielly on Protecting Noncommercial Educational Broadcasters from Needless Regulation (Jan. 4, 2017), <https://www.fcc.gov/document/cm-pai-orielly-protecting-noncommercial-educational-broadcasters>.

<sup>21</sup> Promoting Diversification of Ownership in the Broadcasting Services et al., Order, DA 17-121 (MB Feb. 2, 2017), 2017 WL 467874. The Bureau returned the Petitions to pending status, stating that they would be considered by the Commission. Prior to the Bureau’s action setting aside its 323-E Order, the NCE Licensees and the University of Michigan filed applications for review of the 323-E Order. Application for Review of the NCE Licensees (filed Feb. 1, 2017); Application for Review of the University of Michigan (filed Jan. 31, 2017). Because the Bureau set aside the underlying order, we dismiss the applications for review as moot.

licensee boards and pose other unique challenges. Unlike their counterparts in the commercial context and certain not-for-profit entities, NCE governing board members are, in many cases, unpaid volunteers.<sup>23</sup> Because unpaid NCE board members receive no fee or other remuneration for their services, they lack the financial incentive to serve on boards that paid directors or board members have.<sup>24</sup> In the 323 and 323-E Order, the Commission affirmed its commitment to protecting the privacy and security of personally identifiable information that the Commission collects,<sup>25</sup> and we re-affirm that commitment here. However, we recognize that some NCE licensees may face unique circumstances with respect to their ability to recruit and retain qualified individuals to serve in governance positions. We share the Petitioners' concern that individuals who are reluctant to disclose personal information may then decline to serve as unpaid board members or, to the extent they are able to do so, those already serving as unpaid board members may resign rather than risk a Commission enforcement action for failure to provide the information needed to report a CORES FRN or RUFNR.<sup>26</sup> Further, the Petitioners assert that many licensee board members—particularly those associated with colleges, universities, and state or local public broadcasting entities—are individuals chosen by public election or political appointment, or are ex officio members who serve by virtue of the public office they hold, such as Governor or State Superintendent of Education.<sup>27</sup> The CORES FRN/RUFNR requirement and prospect of enforcement action could pose particular challenges in instances where a public official refuses to provide the information needed to obtain a CORES FRN or RUFNR but is unable to withdraw freely from the governing board.<sup>28</sup>

9. We find that the 323 and 323-E Order erred in rejecting the valid concerns raised by NCEs regarding the potential impact that the CORES FRN/RUFRN requirement, including the threat of possible enforcement action, could have in the NCE context.<sup>29</sup> As the Petitioners note, there is consensus among NCE commenters in this proceeding that requiring NCE filers to report CORES FRNs or RUFRNs for attributable individuals and inform such individuals about the risk of enforcement action could discourage volunteers from serving on the governing boards of NCE stations and pose unique challenges for board members who are politically elected or appointed.<sup>30</sup> No commenter in this proceeding has disputed these assertions.<sup>31</sup> Petitioners contend that these assertions are based on the reactions of unpaid board members to the Commission's actions in this proceeding to date.<sup>32</sup> The 323 and 323-E Order should have given more credence to the concerns raised by NCE broadcasters, particularly given their representations that these concerns were based on their experience with the day-to-day operations of their stations and interactions with volunteers serving on their governing boards.<sup>33</sup>

10. While use of unique identifiers improves the integrity and usability of the Commission's broadcast ownership data,<sup>34</sup> we believe that the potential chilling effect on participation in NCE station governance, and the potentially deleterious effect that loss of NCE leaders could have on the

and an enforcement penalty for either the individual or his/her organization."); APTS et al. Comments at 4 ("NCE licensees explained that the new FRN/RUFRN burdens would . . . put board members who cannot decline to serve, such as state government officials, in a particularly unique and complex bind."). The Petitioners allege that, under the circumstances discussed above, the CORES FRN/RUFRN requirement could increase tension between NCE stations and their board members, cause the quality of board leadership to decrease for NCEs, and undermine NCE station operations. <sup>29</sup> See 323 and 323-E Order, 31 FCC Rcd at 516-17 (Statement of then-Commissioner Pai). In discussing the availability of SUFRNs for both commercial and noncommercial ownership reports, the 323 and 323-E Order went so far as to state that the Commission may take enforcement action against the filer and/or the "recalcitrant individual" in the event an SUFRN is used. Id. at 428-29, para. 57.

Comments at 4-5. For example, in dismissing these assertions, the 323 and 323-E Order did not adequately consider claims that some noncommercial entities that hold commercial station licenses previously encountered difficulties when attempting to obtain similar identifying information from board members. Compare 323 and 323-E Order, 31 FCC Rcd at 427-28, para. 55 (concluding that the CORES FRN/RUFRN requirement would not significantly inhibit individuals from serving on the boards of NCEs), with NCE Licensees Petition at 5 ("[T]here are examples of strong objection by a senior government official serving on an NCE board and the actual resignation of a prominent NCE board member."). Moreover, the 323 and 323-E Order did not adequately consider whether, when faced with the prospect of a Commission enforcement action against the individual interest holder, current or prospective board-member volunteers would decline to participate on the board. Compare 323 and 323-E Order, 31 FCC Rcd at 429, n.207 ("The commenters have offered no evidence in the record that the prospect of enforcement action for failing to comply with the RUFRN requirements adopted herein will have a chilling effect on participation in public broadcasting."), with Public Broadcasting Parties Petition at 6 (asserting that the 323 and 323-E Order did not consider whether unpaid board members would provide what they may regard as sensitive information as a condition of service or refuse to provide such information at the risk of enforcement action).

noncommercial broadcast service to the public, outweigh this benefit in the NCE context.<sup>35</sup> Therefore, we conclude that the better course is to make reporting of CORES FRNs and RUFNRs optional for individuals who hold an attributable interest in an NCE station. Accordingly, NCE filers may report an SUFRN on Form 323-E for an attributable individual who has not obtained a CORES FRN or RUFNR at the time the filer submits its ownership report, without the need to first use reasonable and good-faith efforts to obtain the information needed to report a CORES FRN or RUFNR, including informing individuals about the threat of enforcement action.

11. We conclude that taking this step will address the concerns raised by the Petitioners and NCE commenters in this proceeding. Unlike registering for a CORES FRN or RUFNR, obtaining an SUFRN does not require submission of any personal information, be it an SSN, date of birth, or residential address. Filers can generate an SUFRN simply by clicking a button within the electronic Form 323-E as the noncommercial ownership report is being prepared. Use of an SUFRN therefore does not involve any of the types of information that the Petitioners and other NCE commenters assert would discourage participation in NCE station governance.<sup>36</sup> By allowing NCE filers to report SUFRNs without first using reasonable and good-faith efforts to obtain the information needed to report a CORES FRN or RUFNR, we will avoid the potential chilling effect that the prospect of enforcement action could have on participation in NCE station governance for unpaid board members who choose not to provide their personal information to the Commission.

12. We find that our action today properly balances the need to improve the integrity and usability of the Commission's broadcast ownership data with the public interest in avoiding the potential chilling effect that a mandatory reporting requirement could have on participation in NCE station governance.<sup>37</sup> In particular, we expect that allowing NCE filers greater flexibility to report SUFRNs will not delay or significantly limit the value of our data collection. Because expanded use of SUFRNs on Form 323-E will not require significant changes to the revised form, we do not believe that our action today will delay implementation of revised Form 323-E. Moreover, we expect that, due to the nature of our ruling, the use of SUFRNs and the resulting collective impact on our broadcast ownership data will be limited. In this regard, we emphasize that our ruling today applies only to noncommercial broadcasters. Commercial broadcasters remain subject to the CORES FRN and RUFNR requirements set forth in the 323 and 323-E Order.<sup>38</sup> Further, because SUFRNs are available only for individuals, unique FRNs will

<sup>35</sup> Commenters claim that difficulties retaining or attracting qualified individuals to serve in leadership positions will adversely affect station operations. See Public Broadcasting Parties Petition at 9 (CORES FRN/RUFNR requirement would make it difficult for NCE licensees "to assemble effective and competent boards that are critical to successful operation in a challenging environment."); id. at 4 (many members of NCE community group boards "provide important financial support" to licensees); NCE Licensees Petition at 5 (disincentives created by the FRN requirement will "undermine the ability of NCE licensees to perform their missions"; losing qualified individuals "would exact a heavy toll public broadcasting").

<sup>37</sup> In the 323 and 323-E Order, the Commission concluded that requiring unique identifiers for parties that hold attributable interests in broadcast stations helps ensure that the Commission's ownership data is reliable and usable for studies and analyses. 323 and 323-E Order, 31 FCC Rcd at 412-17, 426-28, paras. 25-36, 52-55. We affirm these conclusions and deny the Petitions to the extent they suggest that we abandon entirely the use of CORES FRNs and RUFNRs in the NCE context. See NCE Licensees Petition at 8-10; Alabama Trustees Comments at 7. In light of the relief afforded by our action herein expanding the option to use SUFRNs on Form 323-E, there is no justification for removing the option for NCE filers to report a CORES FRN or RUFNR for attributable individuals on Form 323-E.

<sup>38</sup> 323 and 323-E Order, 31 FCC Rcd at 411-20, paras. 25-42. In the 323 and 323-E Order, the Commission noted that, in the limited cases where a non-profit entity holds a commercial license, the Commission will deem the filing of Form 323-E, in accordance with the standards set forth in the Order, compliant with the Commission's biennial filing obligation in those circumstances and the non-profit entity would not be required to file Form 323. Id. at 424, n.175. Accordingly, we will deem the filing of Form 323-E, in accordance with the standards set forth herein and in

be reported for entities on Forms 323 and 323-E.<sup>39</sup> Importantly, as we have previously emphasized, filers that report an SUFRN for an attributable individual must do so consistently.<sup>40</sup> If an SUFRN was reported previously for an individual and the individual does not have a CORES FRN or RUFNR, the filer must use the same SUFRN that was reported previously for that individual. Furthermore, if an individual is reported on multiple reports, the filer must ensure that the same SUFRN is reported consistently for that individual, assuming that the individual does not have a CORES FRN or RUFNR.

13. In addition, although we are expanding the option to use SUFRNs on Form 323-E, in many cases an NCE filer will continue to nonetheless report a CORES FRN or RUFNR for an attributable individual. For instance, some individuals with attributable interests in NCE stations may not object to obtaining a CORES FRN or RUFNR. Also, if an individual with an attributable interest in an NCE station has already obtained a CORES FRN or RUFNR for another reason (for example, because the individual also appears on one or more commercial Form 323 filings), filers must report that FRN for the individual on Forms 323 and 323-E. In such circumstances, use of the CORES FRN or RUFNR could not be expected to have a chilling effect on the individual's participation in NCE station governance.<sup>41</sup> This further supports our conclusion that expanded use of SUFRNs on Form 323-E will have a limited collective impact on our data collection.

14. In opposing the CORES FRN/RUFNR requirement, some commenters to this proceeding<sup>42</sup> suggest that certain individuals serving on NCE boards may be uninvolved with the licensing, operation, or ultimate disposition of the noncommercial broadcast license and that it is not necessary to include information about these individuals on broadcast ownership reports. We take this opportunity to reiterate that, as discussed in the 323 and 323-E Order, our rules already contemplate that circumstance and afford appropriate relief.<sup>43</sup> Specifically, an officer or director can be exempted from attribution in the licensee if his or her duties are wholly unrelated to the operation of the broadcast station(s) at issue.<sup>44</sup> Exempted officers and directors would not be reported as attributable interest holders on the Form 323-E and thus would not need to obtain a CORES FRN or RUFNR for Form 323 or Form 323-E reporting purposes. Appropriate use of this existing exemption would further reduce the burden on the 323 and 323-E Order, compliant with our biennial reporting requirement where a non-profit entity holds a commercial license. See Alabama Trustees Comments at 2 (asserting that the concerns raised by the Petitions may also apply to non-profit entities that operate commercial stations).

<sup>41</sup> Because we are relieving NCE licensees of the obligation to report a CORES FRN or RUFNR for individuals holding attributable interests, we need not address NCE Licensees' and Public Broadcasting Petitioners' claim that the statutory authority the Commission relied on in adopting the requirement does not apply to NCE stations. NCE Licensees Petition at 10-12; Public Broadcasting Parties' Petition at 7 n.6. These arguments are moot. Thus, we dismiss these portions of the NCE Licensees Petition and Public Broadcasting Parties Petition. SUNY's argument that the Privacy Act bars mandatory collection of SSNs from individuals holding attributable interests in NCE licensees is moot for the same reason, and we dismiss this aspect of the SUNY Petition. SUNY Petition at 7-8.

<sup>42</sup> See Alabama Trustees Comments at 5 ("Often, university and other non-profit board members are focused on the primary mission of the institution rather than on the broadcast stations licensed to the institution.").

<sup>43</sup> 323 and 323-E Order, 31 FCC Rcd at 424, para. 50. Our attribution standards, including the standards applicable to attribution exemptions for officers and directors, apply to both commercial and NCE stations. See 47 CFR § 73.3555(f), Note 2(g); see also Reexamination of the Comparative Standards for Noncommercial Educational Applicants, 16 FCC Rcd 5074, 5102, ¶¶ 82-83 (2001) (noting, in the context of the NCE point system, that attribution exemptions are available to NCE stations pursuant to the same standards and rationale that apply to their commercial counterparts).

NCE licensees and potentially avoid the concern of a chilling effect raised by the Petitioners.<sup>45</sup> We therefore encourage NCE filers to avail themselves of this exemption in order to avoid reporting potential interest holders who are uninvolved with the operation of the station(s) and whose interests therefore need not be reported.<sup>46</sup>

IV. PROCEDURAL MATTERS

A. Supplemental Final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

15. As required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act of 1980, as amended (RFA),<sup>47</sup> the Commission has prepared a Supplemental Final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis (FRFA) relating to this Report and Order. The Supplemental FRFA is set forth in the Appendix.

B. Paperwork Reduction Analysis

16. This document contains a non-substantive and non-material modification of information collection requirements that were previously reviewed and approved by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) pursuant to the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (PRA), Public Law 104-13.<sup>48</sup> In addition, we note that pursuant to the Small Business Paperwork Relief Act of 2002, Public Law 107-198, 44 U.S.C. 3506(c)(4), the Commission previously sought specific comment on how it might further reduce the information collection burden for small business concerns with fewer than 25 employees.

17. In this present document, we have assessed the effects of requiring NCE filers to report a CORES FRN or RUFNRN for each attributable interest holder on ownership reports filed with the Commission, and we have expanded the option for such filers to report SUFRNs for attributable individuals by eliminating the requirement that NCE filers first use reasonable and good-faith efforts to obtain the personal information needed to report a CORES FRN or RUFNRN before using an SUFRN. We find that this action properly balances the need to improve the integrity and usability of the Commission's broadcast ownership data with the potential chilling effects that a mandatory reporting requirement could have on participation in NCE station governance, and that our action will have the effect of reducing the burden on NCE filers, including those with fewer than 25 employees.

<sup>46</sup> Although some petitioners argue that differences between NCEs and commercial licensees make the collection of NCE data unnecessary, the Commission previously rejected this argument, and, as we have granted reconsideration regarding the specific aspect of our data collection that petitioners challenge, we need not revisit the Commission's response to this argument. Compare Public Broadcasting Parties Petition at 8-9 ("The relationship of such individuals to NCE station operations is important and is attributable, but is substantially different from the business relationship of a commercial broadcast company owner to a station. Such board composition certainly has little bearing on the Commission's laudable goal of promoting television and radio station ownership by small businesses, women and minorities."), with 323 and 323-E Order, 31 FCC Rcd at 422-24, paras. 46-49 (dismissing arguments that dissimilarities between the governance of commercial and NCE stations precludes any definition of "ownership" in the NCE context). We note that even though the Commission's multiple ownership rules do not apply to NCE stations, collecting race, gender, and ethnicity information from NCEs will enable the Commission, as well as GAO and other outside researchers, to more fully understand and analyze the broadcasting industry, and thereby support the Commission's efforts to promote diversity of ownership in broadcasting.

V. ORDERING CLAUSES

18. ACCORDINGLY, IT IS ORDERED that, pursuant to the authority contained in Sections 1, 2(a), 4(i), 257, 303(r), 307, 309, and 310 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. §§ 151, 152(a), 154(i), 257, 303(r), 307, 309, and 310, this Order on Reconsideration IS ADOPTED.

19. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED THAT, pursuant to Section 405 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. § 405, and Section 1.429 of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR § 1.429, that the petitions for reconsideration filed by the American Public Media Group, the NCE Licensees, the Public Broadcasting Parties, and Lisa S. Campo on behalf of the State University of New York, ARE GRANTED IN PART, DISMISSED to the extent discussed in footnote 41, AND OTHERWISE ARE DENIED, to the extent stated herein.

20. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the applications for review filed by the NCE Licensees and the University of Michigan ARE DISMISSED as moot.

21. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that, pursuant to section 553(d) of the Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U.S.C. § 553(d), and Section 1.427(b) of the Commission's rules, 47 CFR § 1.427(b), this Order on Reconsideration SHALL BE EFFECTIVE immediately upon publication in the Federal Register,<sup>49</sup> except those provisions that contain new or modified information collection requirements that require approval by the Office of Management and Budget under the Paperwork Reduction Act will become effective after the Commission publishes a notice in the Federal Register announcing such approval and the relevant effective date.

22. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Commission's Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau, Reference Information Center, SHALL SEND a copy of this Order on Reconsideration, including the Supplemental Final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis, to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration.

APPENDIX

Supplemental Final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

1. In compliance with the Regulatory Flexibility Act (RFA),<sup>1</sup> this Supplemental Final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis (SFRFA) supplements the Final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis (FRFA) included in the 323 and 323-E Order,<sup>2</sup> to the extent that changes adopted on reconsideration require changes in the conclusions reached in the FRFA. As required by the RFA,<sup>3</sup> the FRFA was preceded by an Initial Regulatory Flexibility Analysis (IRFA) incorporated in the Fourth Diversity Further Notice,<sup>4</sup> Sixth Diversity Further Notice,<sup>5</sup> and Seventh Diversity Further Notice,<sup>6</sup> which sought public comment on the policies and rules proposed in those further notices of proposed rulemaking.

A. Need for, and Objectives of, the Order

2. This Order on Reconsideration grants in part, dismisses in part, and denies in part, several petitions for reconsideration of the 323 and 323-E Order<sup>7</sup> and provides noncommercial broadcasters with relief from the requirement that they report a unique FCC Registration Number (FRN) generated by the Commission Registration System (CORES) for each attributable interest holder on ownership reports filed with the Commission.<sup>8</sup> Currently, this requirement compels those with an attributable interest in the licensee of a noncommercial educational (NCE) broadcast station—typically the officers and governing board members—to provide the Commission with identifying information, such as a social security number (SSN) or date of birth, or risk being subject to a Commission enforcement action.<sup>9</sup> Because this requirement, and the prospect of enforcement action for individuals who choose not to provide their personal information to the Commission, may raise unique concerns for some noncommercial entities, this Order on Reconsideration expands the option for NCE filers to report Special Use FRNs (SUFRNs), which do not require personal information, for attributable individuals.<sup>10</sup>

3. Currently, NCE filers are permitted to report an SUFRN for an attributable individual only if the filer has used reasonable and good-faith efforts to obtain the information needed to report a CORES FRN or RUFRN, including informing the individual about the risk of enforcement action for choosing not to provide his or her personal information to the Commission.<sup>11</sup> This Order on

<sup>8</sup> Report and Order at 1-2, para. 1. Although our action today grants certain flexibility to NCEs, we retain the use of unique FRNs in the NCE context, to the extent attributable interest holders may already have, or will not object to obtaining, unique FRNs. To the extent the petitioners request that we completely eliminate unique FRNs in the NCE context, we deny the petitions for reconsideration. See id. at 6-7, note 35; id. at 13, para. 8.

Reconsideration eliminates that requirement for NCE filers.<sup>12</sup> The Commission finds that NCEs participating in this proceeding have raised legitimate concerns that the CORES FRN/RUFNR requirement, and the prospect of enforcement action for failing to comply with this requirement, may hinder their efforts to recruit volunteers to serve on their licensee boards and pose other unique challenges.<sup>13</sup> The Commission finds that the 323 and 323-E Order erred in rejecting those valid concerns. While use of unique identifiers improves the integrity and usability of the Commission's broadcast ownership data,<sup>14</sup> the Commission believes that the potential chilling effect on participation in NCE station governance, and the potentially deleterious effect that loss of NCE leaders could have on the noncommercial broadcast service to the public, outweigh this benefit in the NCE context.<sup>15</sup> Therefore, the Commission concludes that the better course is to make reporting of CORES FRNs and RUFNRs optional for individuals who hold an attributable interest in an NCE station. Accordingly, NCE filers may report an SUFRN on Form 323-E for an attributable individual who has not obtained a CORES FRN or RUFNR at the time the filer submits its ownership report, without the need to first use reasonable and good-faith efforts to obtain information needed to report a CORES FRN or RUFNR.<sup>16</sup>

4. The Commission concludes that allowing NCEs to report an SUFRN for an attributable individual who has not obtained a CORES FRN or RUFNR, without first using reasonable and good-faith efforts to obtain the information necessary to report the latter identifiers, will address the concerns raised by the petitioners and NCE commenters in this proceeding.<sup>17</sup> The Commission also finds that its action today properly balances the need to improve the integrity and usability of the Commission's broadcast ownership data with the public interest in avoiding the potential chilling effect that a mandatory reporting requirement could have on participation in NCE station governance.<sup>18</sup>

B. Summary of Significant Issues Raised by Public Comments in Response to the IRFA and FRFA

5. The Commission received no comments in direct response to the IRFAs contained in the Fourth Diversity Further Notice, Sixth Diversity Further Notice, and Seventh Diversity Further Notice, or the FRFA.

C. Response to Comments by the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration

6. The Chief Counsel did not file any comments in response to the proposed rules in this proceeding.

D. Description and Estimate of the Number of Small Entities to Which the Rules Will Apply

7. The RFA directs agencies to provide a description of, and, where feasible, an estimate of the number of small entities that may be affected by the rules adopted in this Order on Reconsideration.<sup>19</sup> The RFA generally defines the term "small entity" as having the same meaning as the terms "small business,” “small organization,” and “small governmental jurisdiction.”<sup>20</sup> In addition, the term “small business” has the same meaning as the term “small business concern” under the Small Business Act.<sup>21</sup> A small business concern is one which: (1) is independently owned and operated; (2) is not dominant in its field of operation; and (3) satisfies any additional criteria established by the Small Business Administration (SBA).<sup>22</sup> The FRFA accompanying the 323 and 323-E Order described and estimated the number of small entities that would be affected by the revisions to FCC Forms 323 and 323-E. The actions taken in this Order on Reconsideration apply to the same entities affected by the revisions to Form 323-E that the Commission adopted in the 323 and 323-E Order.

8. Television Broadcasting. This Economic Census category “comprises establishments primarily engaged in broadcasting images together with sound.”<sup>23</sup> These establishments operate television broadcast studios and facilities for the programming and transmission of programs to the public.<sup>24</sup> These establishments also produce or transmit visual programming to affiliated broadcast television stations, which in turn broadcast the programs to the public on a predetermined schedule. Programming may originate in their own studio, from an affiliated network, or from external sources. The SBA has created the following small business size standard for such businesses: those having $38.5 million or less in annual receipts.<sup>25</sup> The 2012 Economic Census reports that 751 firms in this category operated in that year. Of that number, 656 had annual receipts of less than $25,000,000, 25 had annual receipts ranging from $25,000,000 to $49,999,999, and 70 had annual receipts of $50,000,000 or more.<sup>26</sup> Based on this data we therefore estimate that the majority of commercial television broadcasters are small entities under the applicable SBA size standard.

9. The Commission has estimated the number of licensed commercial television stations to be 1,384.<sup>27</sup> Of this total, 1,275 stations (or about 92 percent) had revenues of $38.5 million or less, according to Commission staff review of the BIA Kelsey Inc. Media Access Pro Television Database (BIA) on March 9, 2017, and therefore these licensees qualify as small entities under the SBA definition. In addition, the Commission has estimated the number of licensed noncommercial educational (NCE) television stations to be 394.<sup>28</sup> The Commission, however, does not compile and otherwise does not have access to information on the revenue of NCE stations that would permit it to determine how many such stations would qualify as small entities.

<sup>21</sup> Id. § 601(3) incorporates by reference the definition of “small business concern” in 15 U.S.C. § 632. Pursuant to the RFA, the statutory definition of small business applies, “unless an agency, after consultation with the Office of Advocacy of the [SBA] and after opportunity for public comment, establishes one or more definitions of such term which are appropriate to the activities of the agency and publishes such definition(s) in the Federal Register.”

10. We note, however, that in assessing whether a business concern qualifies as “small” under the above definition, business (control) affiliations<sup>29</sup> must be included. Our estimate, therefore, likely overstates the number of small entities that might be affected by our action, because the revenue figure on which it is based does not include or aggregate revenues from affiliated companies. In addition, another element of the definition of “small business” requires that an entity not be dominant in its field of operation. We are unable at this time to define or quantify the criteria that would establish whether a specific television station is dominant in its field of operation. Accordingly, the estimate of small businesses to which rules may apply does not exclude any television station from the definition of a small business on this basis and is therefore possibly over-inclusive.

11. Radio Stations. This Economic Census category “comprises establishments primarily engaged in broadcasting aural programs by radio to the public. Programming may originate in their own studio, from an affiliated network, or from external sources.”<sup>30</sup> The SBA has established a small business size standard for this category as firms having $38.5 million or less in annual receipts.<sup>31</sup> The 2012 Economic Census reports that 2,849 firms in this category operated in that year. Of that number, 2,806 had annual receipts of less than $25,000,000, 17 had annual receipts ranging from $25,000,000 to $49,999,999, and 26 had annual receipts of $50,000,000 or more.<sup>32</sup> Based on this data we therefore estimate that the majority of commercial radio stations are small entities under the applicable SBA size standard.

12. The Commission has estimated the number of licensed commercial radio stations to be 11,415.<sup>33</sup> Of this total, 11,506 stations (or about 99.9 percent) had revenues of $38.5 million or less, according to Commission staff review of the BIA Kelsey Inc. Media Access Pro Television Database (BIA) on March 9, 2017, and therefore these licensees qualify as small entities under the SBA definition. In addition, the Commission has estimated the number of licensed noncommercial educational (NCE) radio stations to be 4,101.<sup>34</sup> The Commission, however, does not compile and otherwise does not have access to information on the revenue of NCE stations that would permit it to determine how many such stations would qualify as small entities.

13. We note, however, that in assessing whether a business concern qualifies as “small” under the above definition, business (control) affiliations<sup>35</sup> must be included. Our estimate, therefore, likely overstates the number of small entities that might be affected by our action, because the revenue figure on which it is based does not include or aggregate revenues from affiliated companies. In addition, another element of the definition of “small business” requires that an entity not be dominant in its field of operation.<sup>36</sup> We further note that it is difficult at times to assess these criteria in the context of media entities, and the estimate of small businesses to which rules may apply does not exclude any radio station from the definition of a small business on this basis; thus, our estimate of small businesses may therefore be over-inclusive.

<sup>35</sup> “[Business concerns] are affiliates of each other when one [concern] controls or has the power to control the other, or a third party or parties controls or has to power to control both.” 13 CFR § 121.103(a)(1).

14. Class A TV and LPTV Stations. The same SBA definition that applies to television broadcast licensees would apply to Class A TV stations and other low power television (LPTV) stations. The SBA defines a television broadcast station as a small business if such station has no more than $38.5 million in annual receipts.<sup>37</sup> As of December 31, 2016, there are approximately 409 licensed Class A stations and 1,917 licensed LPTV stations.<sup>38</sup> Given the nature of these services, we will presume that all of these licensees qualify as small entities under the SBA definition. We note, however, that under the SBA's definition, revenue of affiliates that are not LPTV stations should be aggregated with the LPTV station revenues in determining whether a concern is small. Our estimate may thus overstate the number of small entities since the revenue figure on which it is based does not include or aggregate revenues from non-LPTV affiliated companies.

E. Description of Projected Reporting, Recordkeeping and Other Compliance Requirements for Small Entities

15. The Order on Reconsideration provides NCE filers with greater flexibility to report SUFRNs than previously allowed by the 323 and 323-E Order. It does not adopt additional reporting, recordkeeping, other compliance requirements.

F. Steps Taken to Minimize Significant Impact on Small Entities, and Significant Alternatives Considered

16. The Order on Reconsideration provides relief to NCE filers by allowing them wider latitude to report SUFRNs—which do not require disclosure of an SSN, date of birth, or other personal information—for individual attributable interest holders reported on Form 323-E.<sup>39</sup> Accordingly, NCE filers may report an SUFRN on Form 323-E for an attributable individual who has not obtained a CORES FRN or RUFRN at the time the filer submits its ownership report, without the need to substantiate that they have used reasonable and good-faith efforts to obtain personal data.<sup>40</sup> The Commission concludes that allowing NCEs greater flexibility to report an SUFRN for an attributable individual, in lieu of a CORES FRN or RUFRN, will address the concerns that have been raised regarding the potential impact of the CORES FRN/RUFRN requirement on NCE stations, including small entities.<sup>41</sup>

Report to Congress:

The Commission will send a copy of this Order on Reconsideration, including this Supplemental FRFA, in a report to be sent to Congress pursuant to the Congressional Review Act<sup>42</sup> and to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy of the Small Business Administration. A copy of this Order on Reconsideration and Supplemental FRFA (or summaries thereof) will also be published in the Federal Register.<sup>43</sup>
