FCC ANNOUNCES PLANS TO RE-CHARTER NEW NORTH AMERICAN NUMBERING COUNCIL

Solicits Nominations for Membership to Address Numbering Issues Critical to 21st Century Telecommunications Services and Networks

The Federal Communications Commission (Commission) announces that it plans to re-charter the North American Numbering Council (NANC or Council), subject to approval of the General Services Administration's Federal Advisory Committee Secretariat. Prior Councils have provided excellent advice and recommendations to the Commission to foster the efficient and impartial administration of the North American Numbering Plan (NANP). This new, revitalized NANC will continue this important work, but also will provide critical guidance to ensure that our numbering system evolves with 21st century technologies and services. As Chairman Pai states in regard to this new Council, "membership on the NANC affords a unique opportunity for individuals interested in number administration to help transform our existing numbering system to meet the needs of tomorrow's telecommunications providers and consumers."

The new NANC will advise the Commission on numbering matters of importance both to consumers and industry. The NANC will provide recommendations on numbering policy and technical issues in areas of responsibility the Commission has entrusted to the NANC, with a focus on examining numbering in the changing, modern world of communications.

By this Public Notice, we seek nominations for membership on the Council. The Commission intends to establish the NANC for a period of two (2) years, with an expected starting date in the fall of 2017.

Nominations for membership must be submitted to the FCC no later than September 8, 2017. Procedures for submitting nominations are set forth below.

MISSION

The Council's mission will be to recommend to the Commission ways to modernize administration of the NANP in order to ensure the efficient, impartial assignment and use of vital numbering resources in the changing, modern world of communications.

The NANC will be organized under, and will operate in accordance with, the provisions of the Federal Advisory Committee Act (FACA).<sup>1</sup> As authorized by FACA, the Council is authorized to facilitate its work through informal subcommittees, or other subgroups of the Council, which will report their activities and recommendations to the Council as a whole.

WHO MAY APPLY FOR MEMBERSHIP

The Commission seeks applications from every sector of the telecommunications industry, as well as members representing regulators, standards bodies and consumers. The Commission is particularly interested in individuals with expertise and interests in numbering policies, including expertise in network operations and network engineering, representing the following:

- Wireline and wireless telecommunications service providers of all sizes, including small and mid-size providers;
- Interconnected Voice over Internet Protocol and other IP-enabled service providers;
- Cable service providers;
- Independent network builders and networking equipment installers;
- Other entities involved in deploying broadband;
- Industry trade and standards associations;
- State, local, and Tribal government regulators and telecommunications officials;
- Consumer and community organizations;
- Telecommunications equipment manufacturers; and
- Other stakeholders and interested parties with relevant experience.

Members will be selected to balance the expertise and viewpoints that are necessary to effectively address the issues to be considered by the Council. Members are appointed as representatives of the telecommunications industry or as representatives of consumers of telecommunications. As appropriate, members may also be appointed for their individual expertise as “Special Government Employees.”

OBLIGATIONS OF MEMBERS AND COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Members will serve at the discretion of the Chairman of the Commission. Members will be encouraged to participate in deliberations of at least one informal subcommittee or other subgroup, if any are established. The Committee or subcommittees may be asked to create written recommendations or reports to the Commission. The time commitment for participation in any informal subcommittee or other subgroup may be substantial. However, subcommittee or other subgroup meetings may be conducted informally, using suitable technology to facilitate the meetings, subject to oversight by the Designated Federal Officer of the NANC.

Meetings of the full Council will be open to the public, and timely notice of each meeting will be published in the Federal Register and further publicized through other appropriate vehicles. All such meetings will be fully accessible to individuals with disabilities.
