

Below is a list of recent, relevant research and studies conducted both by the FCC and by a variety of outside groups (a list that we will be regularly supplementing). To the extent that they contain recommendations, which are the most meritorious? Which are the most troubling? What other subject areas should be studied and/or additional data collected? Are there other completed studies that should be added to the list and considered? What research topics would further the work already being done in the academic community relevant to the questions asked here?
