A WEBINAR FOR CONSUMERS: HOW TO DEAL WITH ROBOCALLS

Washington D.C. – The Federal Communications Commission’s Consumer and Governmental Affairs Bureau will host a webinar on robocalls on December 14 from 1:00 p.m. to 2:00 p.m.

The webinar, which is free and intended for all consumers, will provide information about consumers’ rights and the steps they can take to prevent robocalls. Under the Telephone Consumer Protection Act, the FCC plays a crucial role in helping consumers stop unwanted calls, text messages and faxes, particularly when they involve unwanted marketing. The Info Session will explain the FCC’s role in addressing this issue and the steps consumers can take to protect themselves from and/or decrease the amount of robocalls they receive. A detailed agenda will be released in advance of the event.

Consumers can participate in the webinar via WebEx (audio and video) or by conference call (audio only). To participate by WebEx, go to the event page at www.fcc.gov/news-events/events/2016/12/consumer-info-session-how-deal-robocalls. On that page click on the registration link, provide the required information, and then click on “Submit” to complete your registration.
