

The Nebraska Department of Correctional Services (NDCS) recognizes the positive impact regular contact with families and friends has on building supportive relationships that will foster inmates' successful return to their communities. To that end, NDCS receives no profit from inmate telephone calls and operates its inmate calling system with the least amount of cost to inmates and their families and friends as possible.

- Robert P. Houston, Director of Corrections
Nebraska Department of Correctional Services
July 9, 2013