The Internet needs protection from monopolists. Freedom of speech depends on it. However, I wont be surprised if the Internet turns into what broadcast television has become, a one way media, full of elite trolls who can't be questioned on stage, in real time. I believe strongly in both, freedom of speech and freedom from speech. You can fight for one or the other solution, you can either allow censorship and gatekeeping by corporations, or you can enable users to do the filtering for themselves. That is what the choice boils down to, individual empowerment and freedom, or government and big business domination. Please make the right choices.
BTW. If there is any problem with this filing, please just disregard the whole thing. Thanks for listening.
