

I am not a citizen of the United States. I live in Canada. I have been told that America is the home of freedom.

My country will not tolerate the censorship which Road Runner applies to its customers, and is apparently permitted by your government.

If you permit this to continue, I offer the hospitality of Canada to the American citizens who appreciate the value of freedom of speech.