

The first Amendment guarantee of free speech must be upheld on the Internet by ISPs. America On-Line and others are prohibiting free speech in ways that go far beyond normal, legal prohibitions. One cannot find an ISP that allows free speech anymore, so something must be done by the FCC to force ISPs not to restrict the free speech of its users. This is a very serious issue.