

Do not trust corporations to look out for the well being of the consumer. They are in business to make money at all cost. Look at the current Ford and Firestone situation, finger pointing and lies. While in the mean time consumers are dying and have died and they are still posturing about who is responsible. Time warner is a liar also.