

I am concerned about this merger. AOL has a long history of content control. (Censorship) I have no problem with the merger other than this aspect. I think censorship belongs in the HOME, not in governmental or corporate hands. This fact should be clearly stated in any merger approval. AOL needs to get out of the content control business.