

I am writing to you today as a current satellite TV subscriber who would like to add my voice of support to the pending merger of EchoStar and DIRECTV.

I believe that the merger of these two companies will only help the consumer, not only those of satellite, but also those of cable. By enabling the two companies to merge they will be able to offer a better range of services to more Americans (especially in middle America), and that will also help give better choices to current subscribers, but also to cable customers.

Please allow the merger
