

Please approve the merger between Directv and Dish Network because I believe that Dish will act in the best interests of all consumers by providing greater choice, more channels and overall lower costs. I live in a rural area where cable will never be available and believe that the FCC can allow the merger with written contractual agreements which guarantee that the consumer will be protected from monopolistic price guaging. Please approve the merger because it serves the best interests of many rural consumers and still could protect the interests of major metropolitan users who could still access cable if they choose. Thank you.
