

I for one, am behind the merger of dish network and directv. With the ability to provide local channels to all markets after the merge, This is a very positive result. I live in a very shielded area between mountain ranges, and cannot get a decent off air signal for my locals. As it is now, I get my networks over satellite, but they come from New York city, Over two hours away, so their local news is not relevant to me. My local City is Albany NY.

I used to have cable service, but i do not want to go back to that over priced, older technology.

Thank you for your time in this matter, and i hope the right thing will be done in allowing this merger.
