

How can a monopoly be approved? This is just plain against the law. Dish was charging GMH with monopoly practices, and now is strangely dropping that lawsuit. The promise of better things to come is just a smoke screen to get the deal approved, and preserve high prices due to lack of competition.