

I am a subscriber to Dish Network and a retailer of satellite product for the past 17 years,i will not bore you with the many,many reasons as to why this merger must be approved other than to say that without the approval of the merger cable tv will eventually replace satellite tv and there will be no competition.cable tv is our only competitor contrary to what some would have you believe.those groups opposing the merger generally have self serving motives ,please support this merger if it does not happen the satellite industry will never be a serious competitor to the dominant cable industry. thank you
