

If the merger will benefit the average consumer/subscriber, overall, approve it. I am a current DirectTV subscriber with an interest in HDTV (high definition programming) but unfortunately I am limited to only 2 high definition channels on the DirectTV system, HDNET and HBO HighDefintion, I would love to see more HDTV programming.

Once again, if the merge would allow for more High Definition programming, approve it.

Thanks, Steven Harry