

I have been a Dish Network subscriber since the operation was just a few months old. I have nothing but the highest praise for Dish/Echostar's service, product, customer service and honesty. I believe that the merger between Echostar and DirectTV would bring all subscribers more and better service. It is my observation that Dish has constantly endeavored to improve customer service and delivers on their promises. I urge you to support the merger.