

this merger should not be allowed due to the efforts installers have taken to get where they are with certifications. jobs will be lost. also why should one company control that much. MICROSOFT should remind you of what i mean.