

I would like send my support for the merger of Echostar and DirectTV. As a resident of rural America, until only a few years ago where we able to receive the television programming only cable has provided by using a mini satelite dish. The prospect of having high speed internet access and a wide variety of television stations is something that would be next to impossible with any other service in my life.

Also I would like to add that as an elected official, that your job is to act in the best interest of the people. So if you vote against this merger I would trust that it would be in the best interest of the American people.
