

Greetings

My comment is that Echostar/Dish should NOT have a license to operate, at all.

And my reason is that for a period of at least 2 years, Dish has FAILED to take effective action against their outlaw 'authorized resellers/advertisiers'.

For the past, at least 2 years, Dish has been advertised by ILLEGAL spam (junk e-mail) advertising and they have NOT taken effective action against any of their spamming outlaw 'reseller/advertiser' types. Dish has been the sort of 'business' that very much tends to give capitalizm a BAD NAME!
