

Echostar shouldn't be allowed to buy Direct TV. You and I both know this is only going to make a huge SAT TV MONOPOLY. I have been a dish subscriber for almost 2 years. I pay my bills annually. This company lied to me at least 25 times. They owed me a $100 rebate and lied that it was sent, then lied and by a manager saying the top 50 package had no big dish $100 rebate. More than a year later and 25 lies later it finally came after a few more tries. They charge you $5.00 to remove any programming even if u swap & $10.00 for some. They lie and hide detailed bills from you. They got their money up front and when you pay more for extended service they deny you any help telling you to seek a retailer to check unit out 1st(u have to pay them) then they nickel and dime you some more they charged me $49.99 for a rebuilt box with only 90 days warranty and charge u during those 90 days additional for warranty. I paid for the year in full. When i did complain about the 1st box they wanted me to pay shipping $30.00 and if a part was good they would back charge me. Echostar is not a reputable company they even hang up phones on you while being calm. There is so much more things that is bad about this company I will try & send more.
