

I very much urge you and others to support this merger between Dishnetwork and DirecTv. For years I had no/little choice but to subscribe to our local cable service, which for the most part is over priced and of poor quality.

Two years ago I purchased my Dishnetwork Satelite, with the only downside being that I am unable to receive 'local' network channels, and continue to be forced to pay for basic cable to receive these channels.

I whole heartedly support this merger, and hope that people in your positions can do the right thing for the average consumer!!

Sincerely,
