

This letter is in support of the EchoStar-DIRECTTV merger. I have had DishNetwork/EchoStar service for exactly a year, and have found it to be a cheaper alternative to cable. The company has been honest and straightforward to deal with. Further, I believe this merger will continue to bring not only a cheaper alternative, but technical enhancements to satellite customers. Last, once completed, this option will also further competition in the computer broadband internet market. Again, I urge you to vote yes.
