

I am a small investor who works in the communications field. For the past year XO has been saying that it was turning around. The story came out that Microsoft was investing in the company. It was all untrue. I believe they misled investors and now we are going to lose all of our equity to big money people who are taking our equity for pennies. I believe that the government should not allow this injustice.