

With all of the companies so called reorganizing, the honest shareholder seems to be left holding the bag. Someone must stop such activities. XO claimed they had financing through 2003 but proceeded to kill the shareholder.