

I can't believe that xo has the right to cancel out all stock holders equity and then be allowed to stay in business. I'm willing to go down with the ship in a chapter 11 but not for the ship. I know my 31000 share are a drop in the bucket now. But I'm willing to wait 10 years for them to build back there value. Why wont anyone say or commit to saying that this stock issue is going to be dead, gone, and has no future if a new issue comes out????
